

Does a national public insurance program exist, and has there been published research using claims data?

